U. S. Navy lieutenant tops winter quarter graduates

Lt. Charles A. Davis

245 earn M.S. degrees,
two will receive Ph.D.

A Navy lieutenant who will earn his master of science in physics is being recognized as the top graduate at the Naval Postgraduate School's winter quarter graduation at 10:30 a.m., December 19, in King Hall.

Lt. Charles A. Davis won the Monterey Peninsula Council Navy League Award for Highest Academic Achievement, presented quarterly to the graduating Navy, Marine Corps, Coast Guard or National Oceanographic Atmospheric Administration student who has excelled academically. (Other award winners are listed below.)

Guest speaker will be Charles P. Nemfakos, associate director budget and reports in the office of the comptroller of the navy.

Nemfakos earned a bachelor of arts degree in history from Pan American University in Edinburg, Texas in 1964, attended George Washington University Law School, and subsequently entered the Federal Service as a management intern in 1966 with the Department of the Navy.

NPS will graduate 278 students this quarter, awarding two doctorate degrees, four aeronautical engineer degrees, three electrical engineer degrees, one mechanical engineer degree, 31 master of arts degrees and 245 master of science degrees.

Graduates include 209 Navy officers, 24 Marine Corps officers, 10 Army officers, five Air Force officers, five Coast Guard officers, 20 International officers and five Department of Defense civilians.

Alumni Association

Graduates will have the opportunity to enroll as charter members in the NPS Alumni Association. Sign-ups will be taken at the one-stop check-out following graduation.

Sponsored by the Naval Postgraduate School Foundation, a charitable organization chartered by the Internal Revenue Service, the association is open to all NPS graduates and friends of NPS. The annual membership fee is $10 ($13 for international alumni residing outside the United States).

Members will receive NPS Update, a quarterly newsletter which keeps members informed of NPS events and current research. Curricular notes specific to the graduates' subspeciality will be published biannually and topics of these will be publicized. Other goals include a means of networking, a platform for sharing ideas among alumni, and a link for news about NPS' developing continuing education program.

Parking Survey:

Survey results in new parking plan

Reserved spaces reduced from 74 to 1

Results of the NPS parking survey conducted in September have been compiled and used to formulate a new reserved parking is applicable.

Otherwise, after 3 p.m. on workdays and on weekends and holidays, parking on campus will be open parking.

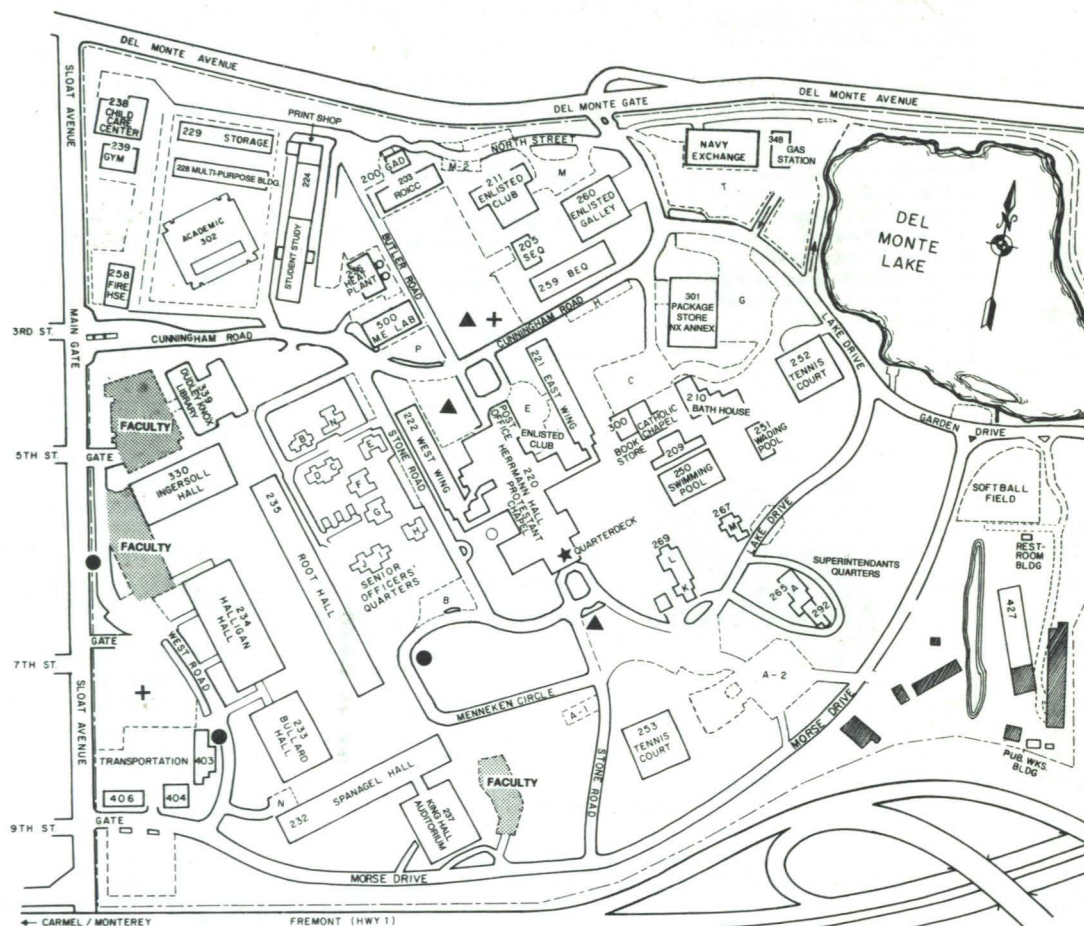

To improve faculty parking, the lots between Ingersol and the library (Q1) and behind Ingersol (J), in addition to S lot, will be reserved exclusively for faculty from 7 a.m. to 3 p.m. workdays. This allows students to park legally beside the library after 3 p.m. and on weekends/holidays.

Other changes include increasing customer service spaces (time parking) behind Herrmann Hall, reducing the number of BOQ spaces and providing open green parking in Menneken Circle. Also, an additional 59 spaces are authorized along Morse Dr. and North St. for open parking.

Finally,

carpool/vanpool criteria will be reduced from three to two NPS personnel who have registered vehicles. As carpooling increases, additional spaces will be reserved in the more convenient locations: R1 and J1 area and B lot for faculty; current carpool spaces in R1 area plus R lot and O lot for students; and A, D and O lots for civilian and military staff. Carpooling is encouraged for everyone - staff, faculty and students.

Changes described above will help the parking problem, however, the best solution is to reduce the number of cars on campus. Everyone is strongly encouraged to continue using alternate forms of transportation, such as carpools and bicycles.

parking plan to become effective January 1, 1992.

Responses were received from 74 percent of the faculty, 42 percent of the civilian staff, 41 percent of the military staff, and 33 percent of the students.

The consensus recommendation was to increase open parking. Almost 50 percent of those surveyed recommended either first-come, first-serve parking, open parking without reserved spaces, or a decrease of reserved spaces. Another 25 percent suggested increased shuttle service (preferably free), use of dirt/grass areas for parking, banning La Mesa residents from parking on campus, and building a parking garage. Sixteen percent chose to keep parking as it was. The remaining 9 percent infeasible for legal reasons).

To provide immediate relief, 165 grass/dirt spaces were made available in September. As a follow-on to that action, the number of green reserved spaces designated for individuals by title (Deans, Department Chairmen, etc.) is being reduced from 74 to one (Sailor of the Year). Consideration will be given to reinstating these spaces as on-going construction is completed and more parking becomes available later in 1992. Another major change is that reserved spaces will be effective only during limited hours. Except for spaces for official vehicles, handicap spaces, red (fire) spaces, loading zones areas and the Superintendent's guest spaces in front of Herrmann Hall, designated and
